

A Country Path

Our Story

In the rural farming community, many stories are shared and ideas are born around the kitchen table. This sharing of our individual stories made us realize that by working together we could share our passions with you. We all provide unique and authentic experiences within a short driving distance.

A Country Path is a wonderful way to visit farmers, artisans, rural industries, special product producers and have the opportunity to talk to the person behind the creation or product.

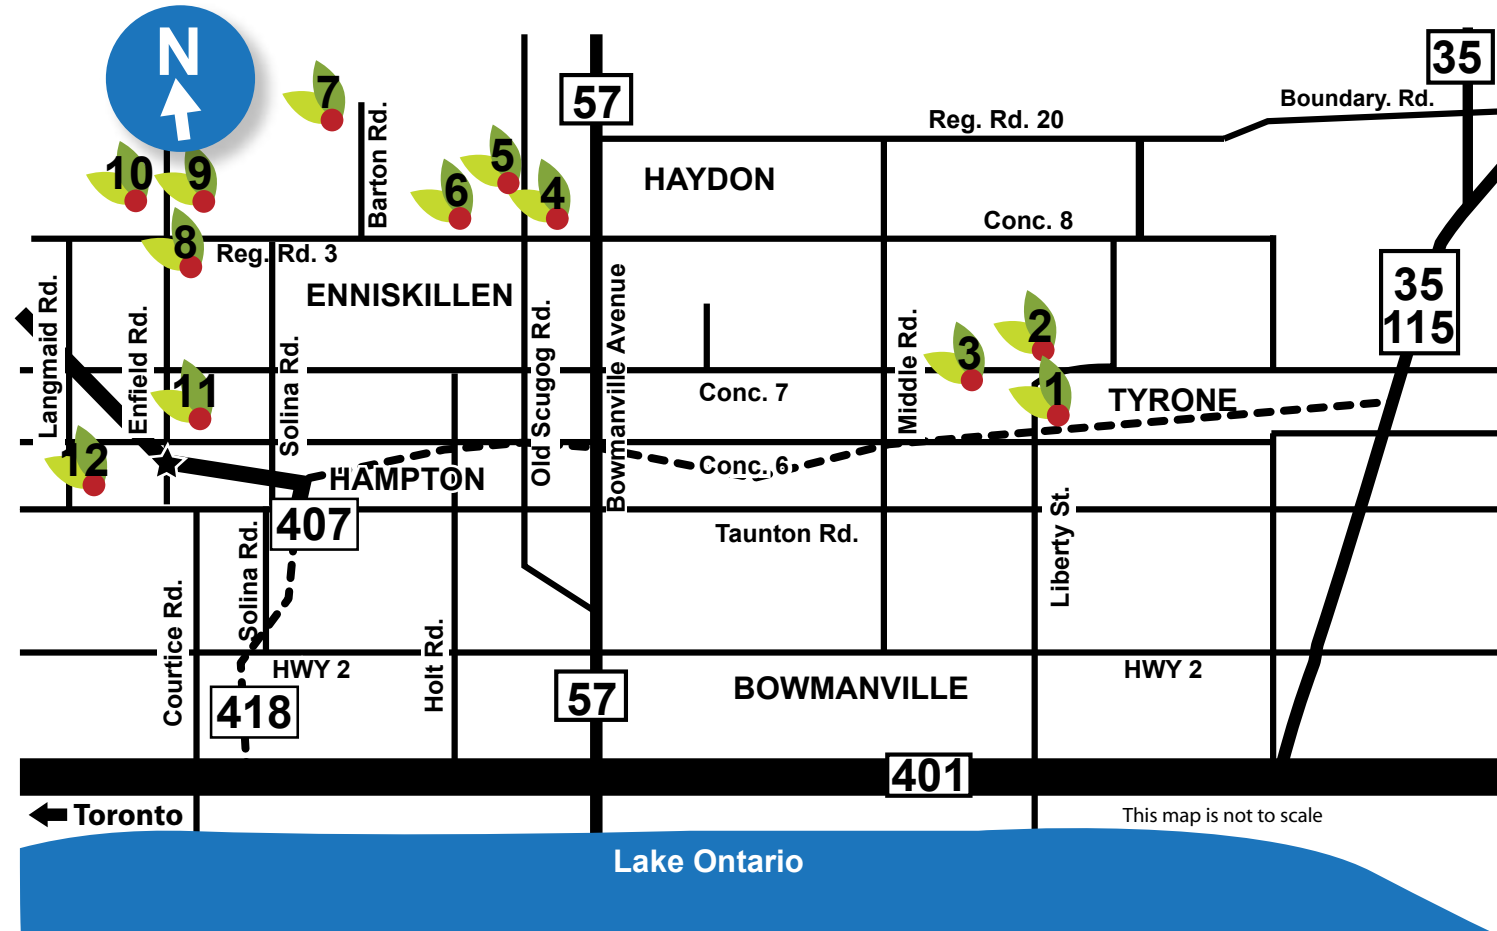

Please check www.acountrypath.com for further information about us.
